Ebola Educational Resources

Ebola Education Package

The Ebola education package includes:

- Ebola Practice Evidence Classification Chart [8] (October 20, 2014)

Please note: These materials are current as of the dates noted. Users should consult the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) [15] or other cited sources on the day they access this information to get the most current information or version that may now be available. If you have specific questions about the information and recommendations contained in the attached material, we ask that you immediately contact the CDC or your local public health authority or infection control officer for the information you seek.