PennCME/BestPractice Type 2 Diabetes Performance Improvement Module is a web-based quality improvement CME-certified tool available to clinicians nationwide and designed to help them continuously assess their practice, compare it to that of their peers and evidence-based quality indicators in the area of diabetes care, as well as to engage them in targeted educational interventions and suggested QI strategies with a goal of continuously improving practice and the care of their patients. This tool provides physicians and their practice teams with easy access to many quality educational resources and tools.