New Horizons in Nephrology: Updates in Glomerular Disease will be held on Friday, April 24, 2015 at the Gift of Life, 401 North 3rd Street, Philadelphia, PA 19103.

COURSE DIRECTORS

Lorenz Holman, MD
C. Mahlon Kline Professor and Chief
Renal Electrolyte and Hypertension Division
Jeffrey S. Berns, MD
Professor of Medicine
Associate Chief and Renal Fellowship Program Director
Renal Electrolyte and Hypertension Division

COURSE FACULTY

Visiting Faculty
David Cattran, MD
Professor of Medicine
University of Toronto
Toronto General Hospital
Toronto, Canada
Jeffrey B. Kopp, MD
Professor of Medicine
National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases
Bethesda, MD

University of Pennsylvania Faculty
Jeffrey S. Berns, MD
Professor of Medicine
Associate Chief and Renal Fellowship Program Director
Renal Electrolyte and Hypertension Division
Laura M. Dambeur, MD
Assistant Professor of Medicine
Renal Electrolyte and Hypertension Division
Jonathan J. Hogan, MD
Assistant Professor of Medicine
Renal Electrolyte and Hypertension Division
Lawrence B. Holzman, MD
C. Mahlon Kline Professor and Chief
Renal Electrolyte and Hypertension Division
Peter A. Merkel, MD, MPH
Professor of Medicine and Epidemiology
Chief, Division of Rheumatology
Matthew Paluszyn, MD
Assistant Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine
Surgical Pathology Division
Sanjeev Shah, MD
Assistant Professor of Medicine
Renal Electrolyte and Hypertension Division
Philadelphia Veterans Administration Hospital
Philadelphia, PA
Wenchao Song, PhD
Professor of Pharmacology
Institute for Translational Medicine and Therapeutics

EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE INDICATED, THE COURSE DIRECTORS AND FACULTY ARE FROM PERELMAN SCHOOL OF MEDICINE AT THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Located at 401 North 3rd Street, the Gift of Life Institute is an international training center for donation professionals offering comprehensive, interdisciplinary resources for skills-based learning, continuing education, collaborative research, and consulting services. Established in 2004, the Gift of Life is a non-profit education and research arm of The Transplant Foundation, a non-profit charitable organization supporting the objectives of Gift of Life Donor Program in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Hotel Information

Please contact one of the following hotels, or another area hotel, if overnight accommodations are required.

Omni Hotel
401 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia, PA 19104
215-923-0000

Loews Philadelphia Hotel
1200 Market Street
Philadelphia, PA 19107
888-671-6397

Hilton Garden Inn
1100 Arch Street
Philadelphia, PA 19107
215-923-0100

Hotel Monaco
433 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia, PA 19104
215-923-2111

Services for the Disabled

If special arrangements are required for an individual with a disability to attend this meeting, please contact Jean Arena at 215-662-7934 by April 11, 2015.

Non-discrimination Statement

The University of Pennsylvania values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds. The University of Pennsylvania does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, color, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, or status as a Vietnam Era Veteran or disabled veteran in the administration of its education policies, programs or activities. Please see the University's complete nondiscrimination policy on the Internet at www.upenn.edu/about/cfnav/cfnav.cfm?ID=4166 or by calling the Office of Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity, 3400 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104-6366 or at 215-898-6366 (Voice) or 215-898-3601 (TDD), www.upenn.edu/about/cfnav/cfnav.cfm.

Continuing Medical Education

The Penn Renal Electrolyte and Hypertension Division at The Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania Presents

New Horizons in Nephrology: Updates in Glomerular Disease
A CME-CERTIFIED COURSE
Friday, April 24, 2015
Designation of Credit
The Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Course Objectives:
At the conclusion of this activity, participants should be able to:
• Describe the pathophysiology and etiology of the common types of glomerular nephritis
• Discuss the general clinical presentation of, and approach for, membranous nephropathy
• Explain potential complications of lupus nephritis and membranous nephropathy
• Identify patients at risk of recurrent glomerular disease following transplantation and understand the mechanisms of recurrence in Gn in transplant patients
• Describe the clinical and pathological features of the various vasculitides that affect the kidney
• Differentiate management strategies for long-term disease control of multiple myeloma and amyloidosis
• Develop uniform clinical practices to provide exemplary patient care for patients with glomerular disease

Hosting Department and Organization
New Horizons in Nephrology: Updates in Glomerular Disease is hosted by the Renal Electrolyte and Hypertension Division of the Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania.

Accreditation
The Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Designation of Credit
The Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania designates this live activity for a maximum of 7.5AMA PRA Category I Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Disclosure
The Philadelphia School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, Office of Continuing Medical Education, adheres to the ACCME Standards for Commercial Support. Faculty disclosure information will be made available in the conference materials and will be ongoing. Faculty members are also expected to disclose to participants any discussions of off-label and/or investigational uses of pharmaceutical products within their presentations.

Registration Fee
Payment must be received in full in advance because cancellations or postponements are not accepted. The fee includes course registration, continental breakfast, lunch, refreshment break, and a course syllabus. Please make checks payable to The Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania. Check is required to register. A registrantship is not complete until the registration fee has been received in full.

Fee
Nurses: $50
Fee is $90 if registering onsite.

Cancellation and Refund Policy
In order to process refunds for course withdrawals, cancellations must be received in writing by April 1, 2015.

CME REGISTRATION FORM
New Horizons in Nephrology: Updates in Glomerular Disease
Friday, April 24, 2015
To register, please send the completed registration form below along with your check made payable to The Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania. Walk-ins will not be accepted.

Mail Payment and Registration Information to:
Jean Arians, Conference Coordinator
The Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania
Renal Electrolyte and Hypertension Division
3400 Spruce Street / 1 Founders Building
Philadelphia, PA 19104

PLEASE PRINT OR TYPE
"Please Note: Walk-ins must mail payment to the program. Seating may be limited for walk-ins. Fee is $90 in a register.
For additional information you may visit www.penncmeonline.com and click on CME Activities."